ANNOUNCER: In Robert Redford's new political thriller, LIONS FOR LAMBS, two screen legends, Meryl Streep and Tom Cruise, face off in one of the film's many riveting fronts.

CRUISE: The dynamic between the journalist and the senator, Meryl's character and my character, is, I think, an incredibly exciting one.

STREEP: Our scenes are like a dance, but really it's a duel. But it's two very well-reasoned arguments coming up against each other.

CRUISE: It has a thriller structure, what's going to happen, how is this going to turn out.

ANNOUNCER: LIONS FOR LAMBS opens in theaters on November 9. With Entertainment News Feed, I'm _____.
